Japs Fall Back At Shuri Fort

By HAMILTON FARON

GUAM, May 28 (AP)—Japanese appeared today to be withdrawing from the Okinawa fortress town of Shuri after a fierce-38-day defense of the key fortress. If the indicated withdrawal becomes a full-scale retreat, it will have been forced by the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division's break-through on the east coast, which has flanked Shuri and threatens to cut it off from the rear.

Seventh Division patrols have pushed through incessant rains almost to the village of Chan, nearly two miles south of Shuri.

The withdrawal and possible cracking of the Jap defense on Okinawa were indicated in field dispatches and Adm. Nimitz's communique:

1—A concentration of Japanese was caught moving south from the village of Gisushi, more than a mile southwest of Chan, and was virtually wiped out by co-ordinated naval and air bombardment.

2—North of Shuri, between that city and American front lines, the 1st Marine Division saw the Japanese blowing up 15 or 20 caves, presumably to destroy stored food or other supplies.

3—On the east flank south of Yonabaru, the 7th Infantry Division found large stores of food, ammunition and equipment in abandoned caves in the Ozato Mura Hills.

4—Associated Press correspondent Al Dopking reported the constant Japanese artillery bombardment of American positions had decreased from an average 15,000 rounds daily to about 500 rounds, probably because 363 enemy field pieces have been knocked out by precision-firing American guns.

The possibility exists that the actions forecast a withdrawal to new positions in the hills south of the present lines.

In such an event it seems likely that Shuri, considered the strongest defensive position on the island, may be left behind, garrisoned and provisioned, to continue the fight without support of the lines east and west.

FLEET BATTERS OKINAWA—U. S. warships, standing off shore, smashed large Jap concentrations on Okinawa with a terrific bombardment of heavy shells as American troops, advancing on the heavily fortified city of Shuri, observed Japs dynamiting caves as a withdrawal preliminary. Heavy rains and mud continue to hamper Yank offensive operations.

Chinese Troops Push Deep Into Indo-China Corridor

CHUNGKING, May 28 (AP)—Chinese troops, pushing deeply into the enemy's overland corridor to Indo-China, have reached the vicinity of Pingyiang, 80 miles northeast of recaptured Nanning, the Chinese high command announced today.

The march carried the Chinese almost a third of the way from Nanning to Kweilin, in northeastern Kwangsi, one of the first U. S. airbases lost in the Jap advance several months ago which established a link across China from Manchuria to Indo-China.

The inland port of Nanning (Yungning), one of the most important stations on the overland route through Changsha, Kweilin and Hengyang, was recaptured over the week-end in one of the most promising Chinese counter-offensives of the war.

Recapture of Nanning was by troops commanded by Gen. Chang Fah-kwei, veteran leader of the old Fourth Nationalist Army, "The Ironsides," which gained fame in China's civil war.

His troops did not have the benefit of American training and equipment.

A dispatch from Kunming said China's American-trained new Sixth Army recently reported back in China from the Burma campaign, had been flown over the Himalayas in U. S. planes, marking the first time in history that an entire army had been transported by air.

Japs Say U. S. Battleship, 2 Cruisers Lost

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28—(AP)—Japanese Domei news agency claimed without confirmation the sinking early today of three large U. S. warships and three transports by suicide planes off Okinawa.

One battleship, two cruisers and the transports were sunk in Nakagusuku bay, on Okinawa's east coast, in a concerted attack by army and navy Kamikaze planes, the broadcast claimed.

"Direct torpedo hits" were also claimed on a large transport, a medium transport and three unidentified vessels.

In earlier broadcasts, Domei claimed Jap submarines had sunk two American ships of unidentified category and suicide planes had "seriously damaged" an American aircraft carrier.

Jap submarines, Domei said, were operating "in concerted action with our special attack air corps' all-out assaults" southeast of Okinawa.

The broadcasts claimed other Jap planes sank or damaged "at least 10" other ships.

B-29s Raid Jap Homeland Again

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28 (AP)—American Superfortresses and P-51 Mustang Fighters carried out new raids against the Jap home islands today, Tokyo reported.

Radio Tokyo said a dozen B-29s bombed the Shikoku area and four were shot down.

About 30 Mustangs, "headed by three Marianas-based B-29s," attacked airfields in the Tokyo vicinity for 40 minutes shortly after noon, Domei Agency reported.

Nazi Shipyard Director Nabbed

By the Associated Press

"He was charged with having tried to sabotage the work of the British Port Authorities," added the broadcast.

Trial of Hitler In Absentia Urged

ALLIED HETDQUARTERS, May 28 (AP)—Hitler, dead or alive, may be tried in absentia as a war criminal.

The War Crimes Commission will have to decide whether there will be a trial, but there is a feeling in some quarters such procedure would be ordered. If trial is ordered, it probably would be on the assumption Hitler is still alive, and in that case he would be given adequate notice to appear.

Gen. Clark Brings 5th Heroes Home

Street Fighting Rages in Syria

DAMASCUS, May 28 (AP)—Jamil Mardam Bey, acting premier of Syria, said today that French troops yesterday had "fired upon the people of Hama," north of Damascus on the road to Aleppo, and he expressed fear of a "general clash" between French and Syrians.

The acting premier issued a statement in which he said that after the French opened fire at Hama, "the people then attacked the French garrison."

"The French called reinforcements from Homs," he said. "There is now fighting in the streets. Communications are cut off.

"The feeling now is so intense at Homs that anything may happen there momentarily, and I don't know what may happen at Damascus. The gendarmerie is trying to keep order, but we fear the incidents may grow into a general clash."

30,000 Nazi-Held Yanks on Way Home

PARIS, May 28 (AP)—A majority of the American troops taken prisoner by the Germans have been evacuated to France and England, and more than 30,000 are already on their way to the United States, communications zone headquarters announced today.

"The exceptions are those still being held by the Russians for repatriation and stragglers who are still to be accounted for," the announcement said.

Tanks Battle In Luzon Canyon

By JAMES HUTCHESON

MANILA, May 28 (AP)—Fighting flared on two Luzon battlefronts today as Gen. MacArthur announced that 378,427 Japanese have been killed in the Philippine compaign, including 8191 the past week.

American casualties are about 50,000 killed, wounded and missing.

A tank-led 28th Division column spearing up the Marikina road east of Manila was locked in battle Sunday with the Japanese in a canyon near Wawa dam.

Wawa, a minor source of Manila water, is militarily important because of the surrounding defenses make it a formidable section of the enemy's Sierra Madre mountain line.

Reporting for duty at Ft. Devens today, Pvt. Joseph McGee, the Worcester MP released from a two-year court-martial sentence for cuffing Nazi prisoners after Columnist Austen Lake and the Boston American brought nation-wide attention to his case, was assigned to the post's motor pool as a truck driver.

Pvt. McGee conferred briefly with Col. H. M. Estes, the post commander, after reporting for duty. McGee told the colonel he had 120 points under the Army's point-rating system for discharge but that he wished to remain in the service and make the Army his career.

The young soldier stopped off yesterday at his Worcester home en route to Ft. Devens and was welcomed as a hero by his family and neighbors.

He had been released from Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., Saturday by an order of Undersecretary at War Patterson, which cancelled the dishonorable discharge and the two-year sentence imposed on him by a court martial at Le Mans, France.

Although he felt he had been given a "raw deal" the young man said that everything was all right now.

Another Shipload Of Veterans Here

A New England youngster came down the gangplank at Army Base today, smiling. Then, in a matter-of-fact way, he told of the inhumanity that man can work upon man.

There were others with him—1496 enlisted Navy men, 61 Navy officers, 580 Army wounded, some Army medics who were pretty bashful about admitting they had contributed anything to the welfare of American fighting men, and 341 men who had been prisoners of the Nazis. They walked or were carried off an ex-banana boat. There wasn't a big crowd to greet them. The band was there. The WACs were there. The band, Coast Guard, gave the kids a reminder, the Gen. Douglas MacArthur March. That's 30 days at home, then the Pacific.

Sgt. Paul McNamara, 22, of Stratford, Ct., liked the feeling of the pier under his feet. He had walked 600 miles under directions of the Germans. He was an Eighth Air Corps gunner. The Germans brought down his plane. He landed alive. He said:

"Don't let anyone tell you it doesn't hurt. I looked up and saw a bunch of civilians. One of them asked me in English, 'You okay?' I said I was. They beat hell out of me. I blacked out completely.

"Then the Gestapo came. They kept moving us. The Russians were getting nearer in East Prussia. We walked for 80 days. Some of the boys got weak. The Germans shot them. There were halts now and then, not as many as we would have welcomed but we could steal potatoes out of a field and mumch on them. We had to forage. The Germans weren't worrying about feeding Americans.

"Bullets to hell, we even managed to milk a cow now and then. We killed chickens and ate them raw. We slept in hay fields. A lot of the guys got pneumonia. The Germans knocked them off.

"It was just good to be freed. I have enough points to get out, but I'm not going to. Got one brother, a marine; two more in the Navy, think they are around Guam; another in the Army, somewhere in Germany, and another in the States, Army, getting ready to go, I guess."

The Coast Guard Band was playing "Happy Days Are Here Again" as Sgt. McNamara walked away. "They aren't kidding," he said.

The next man was terse. He said only, "For variety's sake, the Pacific."

One of the Navy gang was Marcel Gautreau, of Duncan st., Mansfield, a 19-year-old who would have been trying his hand at business or a trade if it hadn't been for the war. Behind him were 10 months in France, six in Scotland, two in England and four on

Rhine Sailors Used GI Garb

In the group of Navy personnel landed in Boston today from overseas are a handful of New England sailors who stormed the Rhine disguised as American soldiers.

It was their job to get troops and equipment across in Navy landing craft and for six months of preparation they had to wear Army uniforms, under Army rules in Gen. Patton's command.

"I felt like a civilian with creases in my trousers," said Seaman 1c James H. Marocco of Providence today as he arrived for processing at the Fargo Building.

"It was a good way to fool the Germans and the Army was fine but I'm sure glad to get back into these blues," he added.

Although only 19, Seaman Marocco has been overseas 15 months. His first contact with the enemy was on his first crossing of the Atlantic in an LST when a sub sneaked in and shot up a tanker in the convoy. "I was on watch and the next thing I knew the ship was in flames, but some corvettes put out the fire and saved her. After that there wasn't anything the German could throw at us on the Rhine that would scare us. It was good duty."

The Navy boys said they liked Patton. "He's a tough hombre," summed up Coxswain Alexander McCormish, 24, of North Andover "and from the first he barked we were in the Army and not the Navy, but, boy, when the going was tough he sure was in there with us—taking all the Germans were giving out. He sure can take it and we would have followed him anywhere, even if he isn't in the Navy!"

The "baby" of the lot is Ronald Roibchaud of Gardner, a husky, tanned, dark-haired 18-year-old seaman who has been overseas for 16 months. Disguised as a soldier he's been through the Normandy invasion besides the storming of the Rhine, but none of that was important to him today. All he wanted to do was find a chance to call Helen DuVarney, also of Gardner, take her out on a date and propose to her. "I'm going to surprise her," he said.

Another of the soldier-sailors, Daniel Falasca, motor machinist 2c, of Spring st., Medford, was just as anxious to get home but for a different reason.

"I want to have a talk with the old man," he said, meaning his father, Frank Falasca, a veteran of World War I. He's only 19 but has been fighting for 14 months and often in the vicinity of Chateau Thierry and other French battlefields he'd heard his father talk about.

His girl didn't wait for him to get back but got engaged to an Air Corps officer but "my heart is not broken," Dan said today.

Coxwain Henry J. Rej of Northbridge said the Navy landing craft ferried 15,000 troops and 350 vehicles during the first 72 hours of the Rhine crossing with no one stopping to sleep. He hasn't seen his wife in two years.

Paul J. May of Wampun ave., Waltham, said there was plenty of strafing. "Listen, nothing can be as bad as Buzz Bomb alley! That's what they used to call the canal leading into Antwerp which was under constant robot bombing."

$25 Weekly To Idle Urged

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) — President Truman recommended today maximum weekly unemployment compensation payments of not less than $25 to tide the country over the "transition from war to peace."

WEDDING PLANS—Peggy Ryan, Hollywood screen star, has announced tentative plans for her wedding to Lt. Frank Maxwell some time in August. The actress will be 21 years old that month.

'Every eligible worker should be entitled to 26 weeks of benefits in any one year, if his unemployment continues that long," the President said in a message to Congress.

Asserting Congress and the executive have moved on six fronts to prepare the country for postwar reconversion, he said "a major gap" in the program which he urged Congress to close is 'the lack of adequate benefits for workers temporarily unemployed during the transition from war to peace."

He recommended specifically, Congress take emergency action to widen coverage of unemployment compensation and to increase the amount and duration of benefits, at least for the period of the "present emergency period of reconversion."

"Basically this can be accomplished only by amending the Social Security Act so as to induce state laws to provide more adequately for anyone who is unemployed."

This recommendation was coupled with the proposed increase in maximum benefit payments in the statement that "decent unemployment benefits would serve as a bulwark against postwar deflation."

In connection with recommendation for $25 weekly payments, Mr. Truman said "Congress will no doubt wish to re-examine the readjustment allowance provisions of the GI bill of rights. All payments should be made through the existing unemployment compensation machinery of the several states, just as payments to veterans are now made."

The President said only about 30,000,000 of the nation's 43,000,000 nonagricultural workers are protected by unemployment insurance and weekly payments provided under many state laws "are inadequate to maintain purchasing power and to provide a reasonable measure of economic security for the workers."

The maximum rate of $15 to $18 a week fixed by most states, he asserted, "is clearly inadequate to protect unemployed workers against ruthless cuts in living standards, particularly if they have families."

He added that in nearly one-third of the states no worker can receive more than 16 weeks of benefits in any year, a period he called "too short."

He said since state laws cannot be changed overnight, Congress itself should extend the coverage to federal employes, maritime workers and others not insured.

Order Hearing On Union Ouster

A public hearing June 4 on establishment of a special committee to probe dismissal of Pasquale Lorizio of Revere from Local 25, Boston Truck Drivers' Union, AFL, was announced today by the joint rules committee.

Rep. Clarence F. Telford of Plainville filed an order for the probe after Atty.-Gen. Barnes charged Lorizio was expelled because of statements he made before a legislative committee considering labor measures.

Barnes declared he considered the dismissal a violation of the constitutional right of free speech.

Under Telford's order, the committee would consist of five Representatives and two Senators.

Declares Ardennes Drove Hitler Mad

By FRANK CONNIFF

HAMBURG, May 28 (INS)—Hitler went to pieces mentally when the Ardennes offensive splintered against determined American defenses, Dr. Adolf Halfeld, editor of the influential Hamburg newspaper Fremdenblatt, said today.

The Ardennes boomerang so enraged Hitler, Halfeld said, he almost executed Reichsmarshal Goering, then head of the Luftwaffe, because the air force provided only 800 planes for the offensive instead of 1800 Goering had guaranteed.

"Now I'll plan the battle to lead Germany to victory," Hitler exulted. He studied battle maps for days waiting for his intuition to get working. One day in September he pointed his finger at Ardennes and said:

"There's where we will counter-attack."

The overwhelming success of the drive in its early phases, confirmed Hitler's faith Providence was directing him and jubilation reigned. But when veteran American divisions began to hit back at crack SS divisions and the drive eventually was stalemated, Hitler's belief in himself waned.

"He never recovered," Halfeld said.

Halfeld said he understood that 60,000 persons believed dangerous to Hitler were executed in the weeks following the bomb plot failure last July. As if this gigantic blood bath were not enough, Halfeld said, Himmler urged Hitler to stage a huge war guilt trial charging Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop and Goering with betrayal of the Reich for concealing the weakness of the Luftwaffe and the "defective" foreign policy.

Truman Sees Hoover; Invites Dewey, Landon

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—President Truman today conferred for nearly an hour with former President Herbert Hoover on European relief needs.

While Mr. Hoover would not discuss the conference, the White House indicated there might be comment from that source later in the day.

Meanwhile, the President invited Thomas E. Dewey and Alf M. Landon, former Republican presidential nominees, to visit the White House at any time to consult with him on any national or international issues.

Mr. Hoover emerged smiling from his 50-minute talk with Mr. Truman.

He said he was sorry to disappoint waiting newspaper reporters, but "the President of the United States has the right to make his own statements."

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross made the announcement that the President had invited Dewey, New York Governor and 1944 Republican presidential candidate, and Landon, 1936 presidential nominee and former Governor of Kansas, to the White House.

While the White House conference was in progress, Rep. Rankin (D.) of Mississippi, in a House discussion of the food program, expressed the hope that Mr. Hoover would be invited to help reorganize the Office of Price Administration "and give us a reasonable" food program.

Mr. Hoover, Rankin told the House, "knows more about organization and administration of a food program than any other man."

Kerrigan Flays Curley, Tosses Own Hat in Ring

Lashing out at the mayoralty condidacy of Cong. James M. Curley, Mayor Kerrigan tossed his own hat into the ring today and applied for nomination papers to retain the office he has held since January when Gov. Tobin resigned to go to the State House.

"One of my opponents talks about Boston being a ghost city," the mayor said. "He certainly came close to making it a ghost city and it is very likely it would be, if it underwent another four years of Curleyism.

"I formally anounce my candidacy, sincere in the belief I can continue to give my native city the progressive, sound and decent administration to which it is entitled. I welcome the support of al who desire that kind of administration.

"My platform is clear and concise.

"I pledge every effort to keep the Boston tax rate as low as consistent with efficient service and fair wages; wholehearted co-operation with state and federal governments and agencies; placing of every municipal facility at the disposal of returning service men and women, and to work with industrial and civic leaders to bring business to Boston, keep business in Boston and raise the city to its rightful place as the heart of New England."

The mayor was accompanied to the election officers by three of his most prominent supporters, Reps. John E. Powers, South Boston; Perlie Dyer Chase, Back Bay Republican leader, and George B. Norton, West Roxbury, disabled Marine veteran of Guadalcanal.

Beverly, Hero On Honeymoon

The boy and girl for whom the Boston American played Cupid were Mr. and Mrs. today.

Sgt. Jake W. Lindsey, 24, of Lucedale, Miss., Congressional Medal of Honor hero, and blonde Beverly Hargreaves, 19, of Lexington, were honeymooning in Mobile, Ala., on the first lap of a wedding tour that will bring them to Massachusetts where they will vacation at the Hargreaves summer home in Centerville, on Cape Cod.

They were married in a quiet Sunday ceremony at the home of friends in Lucedale by the Rev. William Fulgham, pastor of the Lucedale Methodist Church, climaxing a romance which began with a blind date four years ago when the hero-soldier was in training at Ft. Devens.

Sgt. Jake (he's Bill to Beverly) announced he planned to ask the Army for his discharge—to which he's entitled as a Medal of Honor winner.

Army and Navy Move to Avert Railway Strike

Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway officials and union leaders and representatives of the Army and Navy met today with the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration in hope of settling the dispute which threatens to cripple the system next Saturday.

Members of the Union, the Amalgamated Ass'n of Street, Electric Railway & Motor Coach Operators, voted overwhelmingly Saturday in a National Labor Relations Board election in favor of a strike when their agreement expires at midnight Friday as a result of breakdown of negotiations for a new contract.

Officials of the line have claimed they are powerless to grant the union's wage demands because of War Labor Board restrictions.

At today's conference, the Army was represented by Maj. Francis Sharkey, while Lt. Com. Lydon Maider represented the Navy.

Officials of both services are concerned over the possibility of a transportation tieup in the 71 communities, many of them highly industrialized and spotted with war plants, which the bus and street car lines serve. Approximately 1,000,000 passengers, many of them war workers, would be affected.

A separate dispute involving only the Taunton division was brought before Raymond P. O'Connell, counsel for the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Mayor's Cousin Home, Tells of Wounds in War

Walking three miles is no fun for a city dweller, but crawling three miles is something that makes the memory of walking seem like floating through the air with the greatest of ease—if you ask PFC Edward Kerrigan, 35, of Main st., Everett, a cousin of Boston's mayor. He came in on the transport today.

Kerrigan was riding an Army truck in Germany. German planes appeared. The truck pulled over to the side of the road for cover. The German flier who picked out Kerrigan's truck was not to be fooled. He gave it the works.

Kerrigan was hit in both legs with heavy caliber bullets. Wounded also were his pals, PFC Albert P. Lerpux of Douglas ave., Waterbury, Ct., and PFC Edward J. Brock of Grinnell st., New Bedford.

Kerrigan and his two buddies could not walk. The American lines were three miles away.

They laid on their bellies and crawled the three miles.

Kerigan had quite a reason. "I was wanting to see my wife and Bobby," he related, "and, by golly, as soon as they get through processing me I'm going to! Bobby is 7.

Spanos Estate Settlement Seen

Possibility of an amicable solution of the legal tustle over the estate of Peter Spanos, wealthy liquor dealer and cafe operator, increased today as his widow, Mrs. Pauline Spanos, 32, Rowditch st., Jamaica Plain, agreed in Suffolk probate court to transfers of bankbooks.

Under the agreement the books will be transferred jointly to her and her co-executor, Samuel N. Spanos of Lexington, her brother-in-law. Each had brought suit seeking the other's removal, alleging failure to co-operate.

Mrs. Spanos, however, informed Judge Wilson that she still was unable to find the key of her husband's safe deposit box but said she was willing to have it drilled open, if necessary.

The preliminary estimate showed the estate consisted of real estate, stocks and bonds, mortgage notes and cash and insurance totaling $152,594.5.

School Beating Charges Probed

ESTELLE AND LESTER GOODWIN, CHARLESTOWN
He Accuses Teachers of Brutal Beating

Charges by 14-year-old Lester Goodwin, pupil at the Clarence R. Edwards school in Charlestown, that he was severely beaten by a male teacher at the school while another teacher held him, were probed today at a hearing in the school office.

Principal Albert L. Shaugnessy announced he had summoned all parties in the case to his office, in an effort to get to the bottom of the charges.

Goodwin is the son of a widowed mother of four children. The boy said he was in the recreation room Friday and flipped the pasteboard cover of an ice cream package at a waste barrel. It fell on the floor. The instructor told him to put it in the barrel.

The boy asserts he did so and was then told to pick up other covers lying about and objected to doing so. Then, he said, he was roughed up and punched by the teacher, who called another teacher to help him. Together they pushed the boy into the sheet metal room where, according to his account, he was slugged until he was groggy.

Shaughnessy said he discussed the incident with the teacher and accepted the latter's statement that he did not strike the boy. As the teacher relates it, the boy declined to pick up the cover, scratched the teacher's face and pulled off his glasses. He said the boy's injuries were inflicted when he reached for his glasses and fell upon the boy.

Truman, Stettinius Bid for World Role

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28 (AP)—President Truman and Secretary of State Stettinius, apparently sure of their main objectives at the United Nations Conference, now are beginning to turn the American foreign policy toward a more decisive role in world affairs.

Stettinius will make a major radio speech to the American people and armed forces overseas from his penthouse headquarters tonight at 10:30, Boston Time.

Pegged on a review of the work of the security conference and approved by the President, it will be the most far-reaching discussion of foreign affairs to date.

It is part of the same pattern of events which: (1) will bring Mr. Truman to San Francisco for the final full-dress session; (2) has already sent special White House envoys to London and Moscow to tackle the current European crises, and (3) may lead in a few weeks to a Big Three meeting.

The great objectives of these moves are twofold:

1—To recapture, if possible, a middle position between British and Russian policies—the role, sometimes of leader, sometimes of moderator, which the United States held through the Yalta meeting but lost when Washington and London joined forces against Russia over reorganizing the Polish government.

2—To reinforce United States leadership for popular democratic ideals and so-called underdog causes—particularly the causes of freedom for dependent peoples and justice for minority groups.

Yank and Beautiful Polish Bride Hit Landing Snag

By JOHN E. LEE

PARIS, May 23 (INS)—An American sergeant and his beautiful Polish bride when he married in a prisoner-of-war camp, today were counting the hours in a repatriation center awaiting the paper which will send them off to the United States for a honeymoon.

For T-4 Sigmund Frank Peolowski of Albany, N. Y., the problem is this: He will not go home without the girl he married while a prisoner in Germany, but the Army has no facilities for taking a bride back to the states.

However, sympathetic authorities have enlisted the aid of the the Red Cross and a visa is "in the works" for dark-haired Mary Terese Izbikowicz Peolowski, formerly of Warsaw, who has clung to her Yank doughboy husband all through the latter part of his imprisonment.

A Polish chaplain married them in a prison cellar as guns of the liberating British Second Army thundered nearby. As she no longer has any family, British officers stepped into the emergency and gave the bride away and acted as "bridesmaids."

Her father and both her brothers died in battle, and there has been no trace of her mother.

Vet Fund Swelled By Circus Matinee

Behind this afternoon's performance of Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey "Greatest Show on Earth" at the Boston Garden was the stimulating fact that each person was indirectly contributing to the welfare of American heroes, because a substantial portion of matinee receipts will be given to the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser's Hospitalized Servicemen's Fund.

So patriotic circus derived a double thrill this afternoon—witnessing the most sensational show any circus has ever presented, and realizing that at the same time each fan was helping provide comforts and aid in restoring morale of boys who stopped the enemy in the biggest show in history.

Your ticket of admission to the matinee means more comfort to some veteran in a New England hospital—collectively more radios, more record players, furniture and books for recreation rooms, not to mention morale-uplifting phone calls to the folks at home.

Adult or not, you tingled at the $200,000 highlight of this year's show, the "Alice in Circus Wonderland" extravaganza, childhood's best-beloved story, which leaps alive in pantomime as a climax to each Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey performance.

7th Bond Drive Starts 3d Week

With the Massachusetts quota more than 30 per cent achieved, the Seventh War Loan today entered the third of its seven weeks' drive.

Volume in E bonds through May 25 totaled $42,200,000, or 30.2 per cent of the $140,000,000 quota. Total sales to individuals were $75,200,000, or 31.6 per cent of the goal of $238,000,000. In the securities division the number of sales of the various series of the Seventh War Loan bonds is also past the one-third mark, with 5273 individual purchases reported. This is 35.4 per cent of the objective of 15,000 individual accounts, the largest number of sales for this securities dealers division in any of the seven war loans.

The professional securities salesmen, and the amateur salesmen for the loan, have already rung up War Bond sales to almost 40 per cent of their $45,000,000 goal in the first 10 days of the campaign of the 1500 volunteer financial district workers.

Auto Horn Tooter's Attackers Fined $200

A Brighton man and his 29-year-old stepson were fined $100 each in Middlesex Superior Court today when they were found guilty of what Judge Leary characterized as "the most coldblooded and unprovoked assault" ever to come before him.

Theodore Dunn, 43, and Frederick S. Bickerton, both of Allston ave., were charged with assault and battery upon Lewis L. Bird, 50, of Hovey ave., Natick, last February. They had appealed lower court fines of $25 each.

Police said Dunn and Bickerton beat Bird when he sounded his auto horn to drive past their car.

Wider Use of Met. District Water Urged

Use of water from the metropolitan district supply by communities not now availing themselves of it would result in a substantial lowering of water assessments throughout the area, Charles J. Fox, Boston city auditor, declared today before the Senate ways and means committee.

Fox said the present average cost was $80 per million gallons and that extension of the use of water in communities not now using the metropolitan supply could reduce this figure to no higher than $40.

Tobin 'Pay Freeze' Plan Loses, 110 to 86

Gov. Tobin's proposal the Legislature eliminate the section of the budget which restricts changes in salaries and classifications of state employes was rejected today by the Massachusetts House by roll call vote, 110 to 86.

Members of the State Employes' Union claimed the section would "freeze" wages and classifications while state officials, including Director of Personnel William Doyle, denied this. The proposal was sent to the House by the governor today, along with the unsigned $69,000,000 budget bill.

Vatican Trucks Haul Food Into Trieste

TRIESTE, May 28 (AP) - Five large Vatican trucks with trailers, loaded to the tops with food supplies, rolled into Trieste today bringing food for Trieste citizens now experiencing some of their leanest days since the start of the war.

Asserting the best method of observing Memorial Day and July 4 would be by devoting all energy to backing up the nation's fighting men, Walker Mason, New England WPB director, urged management and labor today to observe full working schedules in war plants on the holidays.

a sub chaser, a D-Day veteran.

"That D-Day," he said, "was a lot of fun going in but afterward it was no fun at all."

Off the ship also was Guy Sasso, a baker, second class, 15 months away from home, who was busy at the unglamorous task of cooking while his mates on a small naval craft were on deck and watching the Normandy coast draw near D-Day.

Sasso was heading for home, and if he had been swimming the surge of white foam would have made bubble baths for all the creatures of Hollywood.

"Look," he said, "I was even to excited to know what I was cooking. Everything was cooking above decks."

William Riley, 20, of Primrose st., Haverhill, a seaman, first class, who was coming home after 16 months in France—he helped to transport German prisoners from the Normandy coast to England—was not impressed by the supermen he met during the voyage. "All the ones I saw acted like they were happier than clams to get out of the war and into a little no-trouble stuff," he said.

William E. Doherty, 26, of Henderson st., Everett, a gunner's mate, first class, was on a battleship of the armada that turned loose its guns on Normandy for the D-Day invasion.

He was understandably proud to have been among those present. "We threw everything on the ship into Normandy," he said, "and if we could have taken off the deck plates we would have thrown those, too. It had the Fourth of July beaten a mile."

Stevens Hickey, 35, Harvard '32, of Woodlands, Pa., and once a summer resorter at Barnstable, an Eighth Air Force tail gunner, brought home a Scottie pup 9 weeks old and a deep measure of sorrow for a farmer and his wife who are dead because they helped him.

Hickey had to bail out over Vienna. The farmer and his wife took him in. Some of the enterprising of the Hitler Youth Movement found the parachute Hickey had buried. Storm troopers shot the farmer and his wife and threw Hickey into a prison camp.

"I have quite a debt," he said simply.

Milton GI Tells Of Nazi Treachery

A story of Nazi treachery, which resulted in his capture and the deaths of two buddies, was told today by 1 FC Robert Lucy, of Adams st., Milton, former Colby College athlete, one of the first wounded veterans to leave the transport which reached Boston harbor today.

Lucy, who played football and ran on the track team at Colby, suffered leg wounds at the time of his capture but was recovered sufficiently to walk off the ship to the hospital train bound for Camp Myles Standish.

"It was when we were hitting the Siegfried line last October," he said, "and two buddies and I volunteered for a patrol with our colonel.

"We were nosing around when we came upon this German soldier who threw up his hands and said he was surrendering.

"As we approached to take him over, a Nazi machine-gun opened fire from ambush, killing my buddies and wounding me and the colonel."

He said they were taken to Limburg and assigned to a prison camp at Muelenberg, to which they were forced to make a five-day march with a single bowl of soup as their only food.

"After we got there," he said, "we were put to work on the Leipzig railroad yards and, boy, we had plenty of work. Those American bombers pasted it day and night and, after they left, we had to go out and try and clean up. For food we got a bowl of thin soup and a loaf of bread, to be split among six prisoners, each day."

As American armies approached, he said, they were marched eastward and finally were liberated by advancing Russian troops. Russian doctors gave him medical attention, he said, and then sent him back to his own lines.

He and other prisoners, he said, were "burned up" at reports that atrocity stories were propaganda.

"Just look at the atrocity pictures and then remember they don't tell one-half the story," he said bitterly. "I know. I lived it. My best friend died of starvation and we had to bury him there. The Germans kicked us around and cuffed us."

He said he had led the 150 Yank prisoners at the camp in religious services each Sunday night and that they held special services each night during Holy Week.

"Boy, those helped," he said. "It made us all think we might ge home some day."

1200 Freed Yanks Arrive in N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 28 (INS)—Two Army transports, carrying 1200 jubilant Yanks liberated from German prison camps and 376 wounded, docked at Staten Island today.

The group included veterans of the 82d Airborne Division, infantry troops and fliers. Each had his own tale of treatment at the hands of the Germans.

New Haven Reports Drop in Income

The New Haven R. R. today reported a net income of $3,947,136 for the first four months of 1945, representing a decrease of $1,029,664 from the same period of 1944.

Profit for April was $1,463,809, a decrease of $19,494 from April, 1944. Gross revenue for the month totaled $15,782,161; operating expenses, $10,370,296.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—My husband enlisted in the Navy in September, 1942, and has been stationed in this country since. He is over 42 years of age. If he is discharged for being over age will he receive his mustering-out pay? Or, if he received dependency discharge would he get mustering-out benefit? R. J. L., Natick.

A—Yes, he will receive mustering-out pay if his discharge is given for dependency or over age.

Q—Please tell me if anyone is receiving mail from the sailors in the South Pacific? I have not heard from my son for nearly three months. Should I write to the Red Cross?

W. B., Somerville.

A—You need not worry. Your son is probably okay; mail is sometimes delayed, but it continues to reach the States from the Pacific. It might be a good idea for you to contact local Red Cross chapter.

Q—Please tell me the base pay of a seaman, private first class. Can she send home an allotment when her father is working steadily, with only one dependent besides her mother? R. M., Dorchester.

A—Pay is $71 a month. She may send a columbian allotment not to exceed $50 each month to any member of her family.

Q—I have a son serving overseas in the Navy. He is the only relative I have, and need him at home very badly, because I am ill. The Red Cross had me sign papers seeking his discharge. Do you think there is any chance of his being discharged, and how long does it take. V. T., Boston.

A—You have taken the proper steps to seek his release. Chances look bright for his discharge, or at least having him near home. It is hard to say just how long it will be before official action is taken.

Q—I was granted a divorce from my husband and court order for payment of $10 weekly for support of minor son. Since that time my husband joined the Navy and I have been receiving an allotment of $13 monthly. My son is now 17 and plans to enlist in the Navy. Will this allotment continue, or could I apply for Family Allowance if the $13 is discontinued? M. B., Roxbury.

A—Allotment you are now receiving is solely for support of son. It will be discontinued. However, son may apply for allotment provided you are dependent upon him. Application is made when he reports for active duty.

Q—Where would I obtain application and information regarding obtaining loan for purchase of home under GI Bill? S. W., Allston.

A—Most banks have necessary applications for above loans. At Veterans Bureau, Federal Building, Boston, you may also obtain applications and any desired information.

Q—Is the money spent by the government under the Veterans' Rehabilitation Program; that is, a veteran receiving pension for service-connected disability and attends school, deducted if a Serviceman's Readjustment Act for a bonus is later approved by Congress? J. A. K., Springfield.

A—You refer to Public Law 16. That money spent for your education is not subject to deduction from so-called bonus. Under the G. I. Bill funds spent for educational program will be deducted under the present set-up of bill.

Q—My son was reported missing in action, but later located in a hospital. He is suffering from frozen and trench feet. He has been in a hospital somewhere in France for over four months. Will he be shipped home? W. C., Boston.

A—It is safe to say that he will be shipped back to this country as soon as possible.

Early Garden Crops Need Working Between Rows

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Gardening Department, Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston Record-American-Advertiser Garden on Boston Common.

With rows of early crops showing through under stimulation of improving weather conditions, the soil between the rows shows plenty of small weeds.

While it is too early to hand-weed, it is necessary for the soil to be worked between the rows. The best tool for this job is a hoe or scuffle hoe. Shallow scraping will give good results.

One of the secrets of successful weed control is the time of the day and the weather when you hoe or cultivate. If possible hoe the garden during the middle of the day when the sun is bright. Weeds that are cut off or have the roots exposed will die under these conditions, and your vegetable plants will be damaged less when they are slightly wilted.

In spite of the long wet spell the surface soil is drying out rapidly, especially on the areas that are not planted. These areas should be worked over lightly to break the crust, pulverize the soil and prevent loss of moisture by evaporation. Be sure to keep the soil mellow around the early crops so that rain will soak in.

This week will find most gardens setting their tomato plants. The success in getting these plants started will depend on you. Observe the following rules to avoid losses: 1, Be sure plants are well soaked before setting. 2, Open holes for setting just before planting so the soil will not dry out. 3, Do not put fertilizer right under the plant. 4, Set plant a little deeper than it was in the flat. 5, Be sure to firm soil after setting plant. 6, Shade and protect the plant from the sun and wind if they are tender. 7, Dust at once to control flea beetles. 8, Put paper collars around plant to control cutworms.

COMMUNISTS DROP THEIR MASKS

THE COMMUNIST PARTY in the United States, which proclaimed its own dissolution in the interests of national unity at the height of the European war, is now preparing to resume its former status—the war in Europe being over.

This purports to be in response to "the general trend of opinion of European Marxists in relation to America," according to the published acknowledgment by Mr. Earl Browder, former general secretary and presidential candidate of the American Communist Party.

"It has been clear at all times," says Mr. Browder, "that the end of the war in Europe would require a fundamental review of all problems by American Marxists."

Thus, the Communists in the United States are now DROPPING THEIR MASKS.

They have PRETENDED to support the war because America was involved in the conflict.

But although America is still at war, they are dropping OUT.

Why have they selected this particular time to get out?

The answer is perfectly clear.

They were never IN the war for America.

They have been in it for RUSSIA.

In the first two years of the war, when RUSSIA was IN ALLIANCE with Germany and sharing the spoils of Europe with Germany, the Communists in the United States used all their subversive and violent devices to SABOTAGE American industrial production and war preparations.

It was only when RUSSIA was invaded by Germany that they desisted from sabotage in America and supported what they had hitherto denounced as an "imperialist" war.

Their main enthusiasm for the war was inspired by Russia's danger.

Their chief interest in the war was Russia's victory.

They wore their Americanism as a MASK.

Their dissolution of the Communist Party in the United States was a DECEPTION.

Now Russia is safe, and victorious, and at peace.

Now, therefore, their enthusiasm for the war is diminished.

It apparently means little to the American Communists that AMERICA is still at war, still without victory, still without peace, still in danger.

USELESS STUDY

THE MASSACHUSETTS House of Representatives recently recorded itself as favoring the teaching of the Polish language in public schools.

Undoubtedly, Polish would be a worthwhile and beneficial study.

It would be particularly helpful to ambitious young men who aspire to positions of responsibility in international affairs.

But the law-makers should investigate the present foreign language courses before they obligate schools to take on additional ones.

If they do, they will find that the attempt to teach French, German or Spanish has been almost invariably a dismal failure.

Not one high school graduate in fifty learns enough in three years to converse intelligently for five minutes with a Frenchman, German or Spaniard.

The student can name all the irregular verbs in French and list many German and Spanish idioms.

But seldom can he order a breakfast or ask the time of day in any language other than English.

Something is wrong, and the Legislature would do well to find out what it is before foreign language courses are allowed to waste more students' time and taxpayers' money.

ABOVE was written over 300 years ago. Gives you an idea how long men have been squawking about the make-up smear left on their faces after a kiss. It also reveals how indifferent the females are to the complaints on this score . . . Again see a reference to that Banger, Me., scientist engaged in research on the comparative influence of heredity and environment. This man plans to isolate dogs immediately after birth. They will be placed in compartments and will see neither other dogs nor human beings. Imagine the feelings of a playful and affectionate puppy in such a predicament. It is extreme cruelty to animals and a disgrace to Maine.

HORRIBLE EXAMPLE: Film stars and other people in the public eye have a certain responsibility to take into consideration. Many people are influenced by the actions of celebrities and follow examples set by them. For that reason this department must express disapproval of the wedding kisses of Humphrey Bogart and his bride, Lauren Bacall. After the ceremony Bogart kissed his bride lightly on her cheek. The bride responded by lightly kissing him on the cheek. If this is a sample of Hollywood love, no wonder so many film colony marriages are such brief affairs.

HEALTH FOOD: A Californian thanks me for stating that sauerkraut has been called "the vacuum cleaner of the intestines" and that it is good for the general health. He says since he has been consuming sauerkraut he has felt better and slept better than ever. What puzzles me is that while Germans are enthusiastic eaters of sauerkraut it doesn't seem to have done much for them.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Who were the Rainy Daisies? A—That was the name of a feminine organization which, around 1902, campaigned for shorter skirts for women. At that time skirts trailed the ground. On rainy days said skirts became wet and muddy. So the Rainy Daisies was organized to popularize a "rainy day skirt." This skirt was about two inches from the ground. Am not entirely familiar with the current skirt situation, but I believe the dictates of fashion call for a skirt from 16 to 18 inches from the ground. Time marches on!

PLEASE NOTE: It is now revealed a remarkable storage battery which has been used in Germany, France and England has been kept off the United States market. The average battery lasts from two to three years. This battery lasts 10 years. Never mind writing your congressman about this. The government has already started to do something about it. Maybe something will soon be done about that carburetor which makes it possible to get 150 miles or more per gallon of gasoline.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

AN OCCASION, called National Maritime Day, was celebrated last week. Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union of the CIO, which has followed the Communist party line, was given an opportunity to make propaganda for his group.

Westbrook Pegler

Curran has gone to sea only once during this war. That voyage was a peaceful vacation cruise in fair weather and in safe waters. He was eligible for the draft, but was excused on the ground that his union was performing a necessary service in manning the merchant ships.

A government agency, the U. S. Maritime Commission, was paid to do this work. But the fact is that the Roosevelt government loaded this agency with pro-Communist appointees who allowed the union to control the manning of the ships to rule the American Merchant Marine.

At one time, the union tried to displace the naval gun crews assigned to the cargo vessels. For a long while, until young American landsmen entered the merchant service in large numbers, the union was occupied with the embarrassing business of covering up drunkenness, ship-jumping, draft-dodging, indiscipline and theft and the systematic heckling of enlisted naval sailors by hostile merchant men of the old school.

The Navy, obedient to the White House, locked up the records of the merchant vessels. These records are still secret.

THROUGHOUT the alliance between Stalin and Hitler which ended in June, 1941, Curran was active in many demonstrations of the radical front, whose purpose was to defeat conscription and all other preparations for probable war.

Since the attack on Russia, however, and during that ensuing six months' period when the United States remained, in a manner of speaking, neutral, Curran and his union have been extremely aggressive anti-Fascists and have boasted that there have been no strikes within their jurisdiction.

Moreover, their expressions of loyalty to Franklin D. Roosevelt and their opposition to all who doubted the wisdom of many of his actions or policies have been strangely ferocious by contrast with their earlier attitude.

The situation was not always thus.

IN 1933, the American League Against War and Fascism, issued a publication called "Fight." One essay said, in part. "Hey, there, Big Boy, Uncle Sam wants you for 'the next war.' He wants you to take $30 a month, less payments for bonds and thrift stamps, for doing this. Saying yes, sir, to bright boys in officers' pink pants. Digging in the ground like a half-witted wood-chuck, shooting men like yourselves across a line."

As time passed and the line shifted, Curran bobbed up in the American peace mobilization, which picketed the White House with placards damning Roosevelt as a war-monger and Wall Street stooge, but dissolved the day after Hitler attacked Russia. In this period, the Communists were telling their story in doggerel songs improved for a troupe known as the Almanac Singers, who later were employed by the Office of War Information to provide "patriotic" entertainment.

In the earlier phases of the Communist penetration of the American merchant service, Communist propagandists diligently schooled the sailors in the mutinies at Kiel and Kronstadt, reminding them that the revolutions against the Czar and the Kaiser were started by men of the sea and suggesting a like course for American sailormen.

Russia was not a strong maritime or naval nation, so the program called for complete domination by the Communists of the American merchant vessels and the establishment of Communist cells on the warships of the Navy.

In the early days of American participation, the naval gun crews repeatedly and bitterly complained of ridicule by merchant sailors, many of them foreign born, who called the American naval uniform a monkey suit.

At that time the merchant sailors got $250 for each port they touched in the war zones in addition to their pay and other bonuses. An illiterate Caribbean dish-washer could collect more pay for a cruise than a full commander of the Navy for a like period under equally dangerous conditions.

The oath of Curran's union calls for loyalty to the union and the labor cause but not to the United States and restrictions are such that the majority of young Americans recruited for service in the Merchant Marine cannot be elected to union office.

HOLLYWOOD, May 28—Myrna Loy and M-G-M, after an association of 12 years, have parted. She has asked for and obtained her release, believing she could then accept many of the offers being made her by other companies. There was no battle. M-G-M asked that they retain the right to make one "Thin Man" picture a year, provided they find a story acceptable to her. She agreed.

Myrna has had a most interesting career as an actress. She first played Oriental sirens with Warners. She grew tired of being typed and so left and signed with Metro. In a short time she became one of their most glamorous stars and later was better known as the perfect wife, having achieved great popularity as "Nora" in "The Thin Man." She was off the screen two years when she married John Hertz, and since has only made one picture. I believe "The Thin Man" series has run its course for none of the mystery thrillers were ever so good as Dashiell Hammett's first story.

THE ARCH-VILLAIN of all history, the worst man who ever lived, Adolph Hitler, will have his fantastic story put on the screen by two film companies. Darryl Zanuck has already registered "The Rise and Fall of Adolph Hitler" and is busy collecting data. Jack Warner has the title "Ghosts of Berchtesgaden" copyrighted. I have talked to both but doubt if either will attempt to film the Hitler story right away. I believe people would tear the theaters down in bitterness over this man who almost wrecked the world in his greed to conquer it.

"HEARTBEAT," which Ginger Rogers is doing as her first independent picture for RKO, was originally made in Paris, with Danielle Darrieux in the starring role. The Hakim Brothers bought the picture and the film rights, and brought it to Ginger. She was greatly taken with the idea and said she would be interested in making it, provided Charles Koerner was willing to release it. With Sam Wood directing, well, it was a lead pipe cinch Charlie would be agreeable. Sam directed her in "Kitty Foyle," the movie that won her the Academy Award. This is the inside story of how the Hakim Brothers figure in the Rogers deal.

HERE'S SOME NEWS I think will please everybody in Hollywood. Katherine and Ralph Bellamy have reconciled. They separated and it was said at the time he would marry another girl. But when he did see her he fell in love all over again, and so they have decided to forget all their unhappiness. She is back in Hollywood.

Boston After Dark

IT HAPPENS ONLY ON A SUNDAY because the chief "jockeys" are busy elsewhere—"elsewhere" being a synonym in this instance for Narragansett . . . But the "riding" given Jimmy (Himself) Dykes, his Boston friend Mike Kelliher, and the non-partisan innocent, Umpire Bill Summers, at Fenway Park when the White Sox are playing the Red Sox is the best show in town.

* * *

THE "JOCKEYS" are Pete Hedstrom, whose voice carries a mile and whose Irish brogue is more authentic than Mike Ward's, and Roy Green of Brighton (a boy with plenty of power these days in the vicinity of City Hall) . . . Manager Dykes of the White Sox was so vulnerable to the "ride" at Sunday's double-header that he preferred to keep to his dugout . . . But he emerged at intervals to endear himself to the fans within a hundred yards of the White Sox club's bench by heckling his hecklers and pretending to—as Jack Benny says—"go along with the gag."

* * *

MANAGER DYKES of the White Sox is really a pet of the third-base fans . . . Umpire Summers, who has a sense of humor, rates right with him . . . And Mr. Kelliher, head of the Community Fund drive, a potential candidate for mayor and former president of the Clover Club, showed so much tolerance for his ribbers that his stock went up greatly, too.

BASEBALL CROWDS are notably good-natured gatherings . . . Sunday's throng at Fenway Park seemed even more congenial than most such outpourings . . . And we picked up a bit of news, too . . . Emmett O'Neill, the Red Sox pitcher who won his game by letting the Dykes-men down with two hits and one run after a very shaky start, narrowly missed being traded from the Boston club this season . . . Joe insisted that Emmett, once he had confidence in himself, would be a great pitcher, and Joe's opinion prevailed When the wolves went to work on Pitcher O'Neill yesterday, Manager Cronin must have had a very uncomfortable three innings (of the second game) . . . But Joe resisted the natural urge to take O'Neill out of the game . . . The tall and handsome Emmett repaid his manager's confidence by tossing his best game in two years.

JOHN CHAPMAN contributes a succinct, literary and very entertaining biography of Mike Todd, the producer, in a recent Collier's . . . He calls the story "Platinum-Plated Pitchman" . . . Mr. Chapman, drama critic for the New York Daily News, tells of a reporter trying to get the low-down from Mike of an anomalous situation which obtained when Mike was seeking a reduction in salaries for the actors in one of Mike's early shows.

* * *

"YOUR AUDITOR says the show is losing money," he said, "and your publicity man says it is cleaning up. What about this?" . . . "All I can say," replied Mike, "is that both departments are functioning perfectly."

* * *

WE COULD have expanded the story slightly, and made it more interesting at one juncture . . . Mike's right name is Avrom Goldenbagen . . . But his lawyer was an Irishman of brilliant gifts (and famous political antecedents) in Chicago . . . . When Michael decided to brave show-business in New York, the Irish lawyer decided the change Mike's name . . . So "Michael Joseph Todd" was the choice . . . But Mike saw the name in print several times . . . Then he ordered the middle name deleted from all publicity . . . "I feel like a phony with even one Irish first name," said he. "Let's keep me down to one."

* * *

THE IRISH LAWYER protested that "Joseph" was an historic Jewish name (Joseph of the many-colored coat) long before Ireland had been re-organized in history . . . But Mike was firm . . . "It may have been Jewish then," said he, "but name me a real 'Joseph' in show-business . . . Does Joe Schenk call himself Joseph?"

WASHINGTON, May 28—Sen. Arthur S. Vandenberg of Michigan is unquestionably the most distinguished-looking gentleman in Congress. He is almost as imposing in his way as the Lincoln Memorial, or even the larger statues in Evalyn Walsh McLean's backyard.

Sen. Vandenberg

The other evening in San Francisco—my stars alive, how can Dixon cover so much territory?—three conference-reporting journalists went to the Vandenberg suite to interview the great man. The reporters were—and oddly enough, still are—Mark Foote of Grand Rapids, Mich; Jay G. Hayden of Detroit, and Morris D. Ervin of Cincinnati.

They knocked—and heard a voice boom out. Taking it for an invitation to enter, they did—finding the door hospitably unlatched.

The voice, however, continued to blast forth. For a moment the journalists thought it was the radio but only for a moment.

The next instant their bulging eyes beheld a spectacle which they vow—will remain with them the rest of their lives.

In the center of the rug, stood the senior Senator from Michigan, declaiming at the top of his voice. He accompanied his words with splendid gestures and tosses of the famous Vandenberg tresses as if addressing a spellbound multitude.

But that doesn't begin to describe the true magnificence of the spectacle.

And, sitting with her back turned, calmly writing a letter and paying not the slightest attention to the deluge of eloquence, sat Mrs. Vandenberg—dressed to the hilt in elaborate evening raiment!

* * *

INCIDENTALLY, there is a room directly across the corridor from the Senate dining room in the Capitol that is now used by all the Senators, Republican and Democrat, for private parties. It is called the "Vandenberg Room."

The reason for this is that Sen. Vandenberg used to have the room assigned to him as a committee chamber, so that every time a Senator wanted to give a luncheon he had to ask Vandenberg's permission.

This went on for a long time, causing much desk-moving and rearranging of furniture before and after each party until Vandenberg got tired and finally granted:

"Aw, the devil with it—you can have it as a club room."

But the name still sticks.

* * *

JUST BEFORE President Truman's press conference last week at which he announced more Cabinet-moving than you'd see at a furniture exhibition, Mr. Bill Simmons, the White House receptionist, got up and addressed the press.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "The last time you were assembled here six cigaret butts were found on the President's carpet. The next lady or gentleman who drops a butt on the carpet will be invited to leave!"

* * *

I SIMPLY cannot understand Mr. Simmons. Imagine, in times like these, discontinuing such a nice, easy way of sniping cigaret butts.

* * *

YOU REMEMBER, of course, how uproarious the press sessions with F. D. R. often used to be. When at top form, Mr. Roosevelt frequently kept the newspapermen in stitches with his fast sallies, like the time he murmured with graven-faced innocense:

"We Roosevelts like to travel!"

Most of us thought those days of hilarity were over when Mr. Truman moved in. The Missourian had little reputation for fast comedy. But we learned, at the Cabinet-shuffling session, that he can throw a hot one as good as Fred Allen.

A reporter reminded him of his statement, a couple of weeks ago, that he had information which convinced him Hitler was really dead. The scribe asked if he would now care to reveal the nature and source of the information.

Certainly, said the President, his face absolutely deadpan. Himmler had told someone that Hitler was a very sick man and had only 24 hours to live—and when Himmler said a man had only 24 hours to live it usually worked out that way.

* * *

MR. CHARLES ROSS, the distinguished newspaperman, who was taken over as the President's secretary, revealed that the Chrisman High School in Independence, Mo., had dedicated its 1945 yearbook "The Gleam" to Mr. and Mrs. Truman, both of the class of 1901.

Someone asked Mr. Ross if he hadn't been in that class, too. He admitted he had.

"And," persisted the reporter, "weren't you also editor of the Gleam?"

Mr. Ross confessed the charge whereupon the reporter grunted: "Ha! Putting in a plug for your old sheet, eh?"

MRS. HARRY WEBSTER BROWN of Winchester announces the marriage of her daughter, Marjorie, to Edmund A. Merriam, Jr., son of Mr. E. A. Merriam of Wallingford, Ct., May 25 in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of May School and Wellesley College, the groom of Choate School and Hamilton College. The wedding was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's mother. The newlyweds have gone to the West Coast. On the way to the station Midge and Ed and a few close friends stopped for a steak and champagne dinner in town and had so much fun they would have missed the train but for the quick witted Bettie Kern who rushed them to the station just in time to hear the conductor yell "all aboard". Midge's going away suit was tailored black wool with a frilly white blouse, white flower hat and orchid corsage.

NOTES FROM a Society Editor's Cuff: The housewarming Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee planned at their new home in Winchester turned into a gay welcome home party for their son, Ens. Alfred, who surprised his mother by walking in on her birthday. He has been in the Pacific area for several years. Mrs. Lee entertained American troops in France during the last war. This time she has done a big job at the USO Citizens' Committee as head of the entertainment department.

To celebrate Capt. John Goodrich's return from abroad, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Goodrich, gave a family luncheon at the Ritz. Joining the fun were Jack's attractive wife Priscilla, their tow headed son and Mrs. Norman Vaughan. Priscilla accented her blonde hair with a tan gabardine suit, lime blouse and lime feather headdress.

Mrs. George Stephenson, who has done such a splendid job for the Red Cross, is getting ready to take a short leave of absence and open her house at Swampscott which adjoins the summer places of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Brown, and mother, Mrs. Edwin Brown. Mary Helen Brown will soon be home from New York to spend the summer with the George Browns.

Dr. and Mrs. Parker Hayden are planning to spend a large part of the summer at their farm in Vermont.

Backyard Picnic

By MARTHA LEE

DECORATION DAY used to usher in picnic season. Well it can usher into the family picnic with baskets, blankets, lemonade and the best of everything piled high and ready to get quest of a picnic spot.

This year the gasoline situation looks to return no stye—and no tires, too, maybe. Even though we may be forced to picnic at home, we can have all the fun of the good time right in our own backyard.

PICNIC FOOD

But the right spot is only the first step to a successful picnic—most important is the food. And on that score it's up to us here to make this party better than the best. Since the picnic will be near the kitchen, we need to stick to fried chicken sandwiches. Instead, why not set up a buffet table and let each fellow help himself as he wants to eat—arranged on the grass or sitting at a real table set up in a corner of the garden.

Put lots of corn and grapefruit juice, a hearty salad, celery, beans, radishes, olives and pickles, as course; and a nice basket of muffins. With iced tea or coffee for the beverage and a delicious dessert, the backyard picnic will be declared the Blue Ribbon Party of them all.

WALDORF SALAD

1 cup diced apples
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped peanuts
2 tbsp. salad oil
½ tbsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. tarragon vinegar
½ tsp. salt  1 shake paprika
1 shake of pepper

Combine the apple, celery and peanuts. Mix the rest of the ingredients thoroughly and combine with the first mixture. Let stand in the refrigerator until chilled and well marinated. Serve on lettuce or other salad green, and add mayonnaise if desired. Makes 4 servings.

SPICED APPLE PEANUT MUFFINS

2 cups flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1-4 cup sugar  ½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cinnamon  1 egg
½ cup milk
4 tbsp. peanut oil
1 cup diced raw apples
½ cup salted peanuts, coarsely ground

Sift dry ingredients. Beat egg, add milk and add to dry mixture. Add peanut oil and fold in diced apples and peanuts. Drop into greased muffin tins. Bake in 400 to 425 deg. F. oven 20 to 30 minutes.

PRUNE MUFFINS

1 cup prunes  1 egg
3 tbsp. sugar
3 tbsp. melted shortening
1 cup milk
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 tsp. baking powder ½ tsp. salt

Boil prunes 10 minutes in water to cover, drain, remove pits and cut prunes into pieces. Beat egg, add sugar, shortening and milk, and when well mixed combine with flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Add prunes and beat just enough to mix. Pour into greased muffin pans and bake about 25 minutes in a hot oven (425 deg. F.). Makes 12 medium-sized muffins.

FRUIT SUNDAE

Place any ready-to-eat cereal in dessert dish and add a scoop of ice cream to the center of the cereal. Top with fruit sauce made from crushed fresh fruits in season or canned diced fruit. When extra ripe fruit is used, no additional sugar is required. Canned fruit is often sweet enough with its accompanying syrup. Fruit Sundae Toppings that are always winners are crushed strawberries or pineapple, red raspberries, sliced peaches, mixed fruit, or sliced bananas.

Complexion Benefits

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

THERE'S AN OLD saying that a house is as clean as its windows . . . and certainly a face is only as lovely as the healthy smoothness and texture of its complexion. Irregular features don't matter too much . . . it's the illusion of a charming face that makes for appeal . . . or the lack of it.

Remember the days when this cliche was bandied about . . . "Clothes make the gal." That's only a half-truth. Naturally, clothes help some in the tout ensemble picture . . . but any girl in the simplest calico can be a raving beauty if her complexion is rose-kissed and clean . . . if it sparkles with freshness and youth . . . if her eyes shine large and bright . . . for she is the American girl with the gleam of free horizons in her expression.

When we're keeping our chin up and our heads high . . . let's show a complexion that is truly worthy of the title . . . the American look. Theatricalism belongs behind the footlights . . . it's not for you and me. We tread life's highway in the simple pursuance of our daily chores . . . seeking a little happiness here and there for ourselves and for those dear and near to us. And happiness comes only to those who adhere to the naturalness of a much-needed face-charming routine . . . who look as God made them . . . and who act naturally.

WARM-WEATHER MUST

Maybe because we're such a bug on the natural look . . . the vibrant, youthful, healthy look . . . that we dote on a wash cream as the basis of any ritual. Or, perhaps because we live in a medical atmosphere that we're fond of old-fashioned water . . . one of the best astringents there is. Whatever our personal reason . . . this wash-cream . . . a pioneer in its field . . . is a warm-weather must for the gal who hopes to sterilize her skin against the onslaught of the day's accumulated dust and soot and grime.

You cream your face with this whip-cream-textured fluffiness and then wash it off with splashing cold water, drying it vigorously with a soft, turkish towel. And you and your face feel fine and spanking clean after its application. The cream absorbs the dirt and the water washes it off and contracts the pores. What could be healthier and truer to the laws of nature? Sure we use a skin freshener or a cosmetic astringent later . . . but for the first step in maintaining a healthy, happy face . . . this wash-cream hits the jackpot.

For the name of this unusual cream facial wash, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NO LONGER do women look as they feel . . . they feel as they look . . . and if their complexion is of the enviably, sparkling variety . . . the cynosure of all eyes . . . then, they feel pretty special at all times. "What a beautiful complexion you have" is music to any gal's ears . . . or why would we gals try so hard to achieve one? Lovely Warner star Lynne Baggett has no facial worries.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Sunday — I have a letter from a friend which says: "I am seriously disturbed by the rising tide of criticism about our two chief allies in the war, Russia and Great Britain."

This letter points up something which a number of people seem to feel, for I have read editorials on the amount of common gossip one can hear in almost any gathering of people today.

I suppose there are people in this country still working for Nazi and Fascist interests deliberately. In addition, however, there are many people who, without knowing it, are working against the future peace of the world. These are the people motivated in all they do primarily by fear.

* * *

THEY ARE AFRAID that their statesmen are not going to be equal to dealing with the statesmen of foreign nations on an equal basis.

They are afraid that we are not going to be able to compete with strong nations in the world of the future, and therefore they want to keep other nations weak.

They are afraid of Russia, and therefore feel that Germany must not be too weak; or they are afraid of Great Britain and believe that we must curtail her prosperity in any way possible.

* * *

THESE ARE the people who pass on any disparaging things before they really investigate to find out whether these things are true; and, if so, whether their is a reason why they are true.

I think the only assurance we have that in the future we can hope for a chance to build peace lies in our own sense of confidence in ourselves.

Me may differ with our Allies. We have in the past. If we live up to our word once given, however, that will lead others to trust in our strength, because it is exercised by men of goodwill, with love in their hearts which wipes out fear.

HIS MOTHER—Although the bride has the final word regarding wedding plans it's tactful for her to let the bridegroom's mother feel that she is not excluded. She should be asked to express her opinion or make some suggestions occasionally. After all, it's her son's wedding as well as the bride's.

Raincoats Step Up in Class

By BETTINA BEDWELL

RAINCOATS have branched out more this season than in all their history. There are now raincoats that can go out over formal and dressy clothes without looking like a poor relation at a rich wedding. There are, too, raincoats for brides to wear, and for their attendants. There are mother-and-daughter raincoats. In short, the raincoat is on the march to greater triumphs.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of the new raincoat models in the mother-and-daughter edition. This is a white raincoat, super-smart, and made of Byrd cloth by Aquatogs. The mother and daughter coats are cut like trench coats with smart belts and turn-over collars. They have hats of the same material.

De Valera Denies Dictator Charge

GALWAY, Eire, May 28 (AP)—Prime Minister De Valera attacked what he called misrepresentation of the Irish Free State government abroad and said the Irish nation was a democracy and not a dictatorship.

In a speech reported by the British Press Ass'n, the Irish leader said a pretense was being made that the people of Ireland were being ruled against their will, even though they had six general elections within the past 12 years.

He added there was probably no other country in the world where so many elections were held in such a short period.

Playlet Is Feature On Bond Show Bill

"The Favor," a 10-minute playlet by Leonard M. Klee and featuring Muriel Williams, Peggy Ann Sullivan and Philip Brown through the courtesy of the American Theater Wing, is being presented tonight on Loew's State Theater stage in connection with the War Bond preview of the Spencer Tracy-Katharine Hepburn starrer, "Without Love."

'Blithe Spirit' on Strawhat Circuit

In the words of the "Carousel" hit number, "Blithe Spirit" is "busting out all over" the strawhat circuit, starting with Guy Palmerton's presentation of the Noel Coward comedy at the Worcester Playhouse tomorrow evening as the season's opener.

It is scheduled to open the Cambridge Summer Theater season at Brattle Hall on June 11, as well as the Newport Casino Theater's 18th season.

* * *

Co-managers Louise Falk and John Huntington announce the five productions to follow "Blithe Spirit" at Brattle Hall, to wit: June 18—"Her Cardboard Lover," with Diana Barrymore, Philip Huston and Harry Ellerbe; June 25—"The Passionate Congressman," a new play by Lee Harrison starring Neil Hamilton; July 2—"My Sister Eileen," with Libby Holman; July 9—"Winterset," with Vera Zorina, and July 16—"Alice in Wonderland."

BEACON'S SCREEN FARE

"Murder, My Sweet," which introduces Dick Powell in his first straight acting role and with Anne Shirley as his romantic interest, is now to be seen on the Beacon screen. Also showing on the same bill through Wednesday is "Night Club Girl," with Vivian Austin and Edward Norris.

Tax Ban Urged On Service Pay

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) —Sen. Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire today proposed legislation exempting all men and women in the armed forces from income taxes on service pay.

Bridges said he would offer the measure as an amendment to the first revenue bill in the Senate in order to "remove a distinct injustice in our national tax policies" against service folk.

Germany Cries Charity For Its Refugee Millions

By AUSTEN LAKE

THERE IS A FAMILIAR ECHO in the words of Admiral Doenitz, late head of Nazi State. He says: "For us adult Germans it makes no matter. Our race is run! But for German children I plead charity." The echo comes from what happened a month ago at Waldburg, Gremany, where Colonel Creighton Abrams and his command staff was occupying the luxurious castle of a German Graf (Count).

Austen Lake

The Count and his family were being "evacuated," which is polite terminology for being chucked out. It was black night as he stood in his lavish living room where Abrams was preparing the next day's plan of attack. "For myself I do not care," said the Count heavily. "But I have two small children. I ask that they be allowed to remain here."

Abrams raised his eyes and fixed the Count with a sharp stare, "I have sympathy for children," he said slowly, "I too, have two small children. But I could feel greater pity for yours had I not seen the children of France and Belgium and Luxembourg—children whose parents Nazi troops shot as hostages, children whose homes had been burned by your troops, children wandering on the roads with no place to go. Your children will go with you."

Everywhere in Germany one heard laments for the "innocent victims of war—old folks and mothers with small children who wander foodless and with no hope of shelter." Well it IS pathetic! No one who has seen these sad derelicts of war can help but feel pathos for their tragic plight. But Germany saved its tears for five long years and only sheds them now because the homeless sheepruns of humanity are ITS refugees. It did not weep while its own chimers plunged millions of neighboring "old folks, mothers and small children" to perdition.

The "Children of Nowhere"

ADMIRAL DOENITZ AND HIS MILITARY gang should be accustomed to such sights—the endless streams of dislocated peoples who fled like frenzied geese before their blitz invasions, the vast multitude of raggety creatures trundling whatever they might salvage and tramping blindly, whither they knew not.

Has Germany forgotten? Well, we of the Third Army cannot forget the highways of liberated France as the Hun was being driven in headlong rout. The flotsam of war, the ragtag procession, was going home again, never knowing what they would find at journey's end.

For many it was only a pile of tangled ruin, a mass of tumbled masonry, an empty shell. So they cried a little, even though knowing that tears were futile. Then they tried to build temporary shelters and scavenge a little food. What comfort, Comrades? What rosy visions of the future? No roof, no cows, no food, no husbands, no fathers!

And always there were children who clutched at their elder's clothes and trudged sidewise with wide-eyed wonder, drinking in the mysteries of counter-marching soldiers and trucks—children who by courtesy of Berlin, had never know a world other than strife, scarce food and fear. It was an indelible sort of fear, embossed permanently on their hearts.

There were swarms of tiny, unattached tots, some separated from their parents and some with no parents at all—urchins of adversity in a mad maelstrom and dependent on the charity of some passing family, already overburdened with its own. Or some times sympathetic GI truckdrivers after delivering their war loads would pick them up and carry the wistful cargoes back, trusting to find temporary haven for these "children of nowhere."

The Biblical Mark of Cain!

SO GERMANY WEEPS WHILE Doenitz speaks of "heart constricting scenes" and concludes, "God help us." Though none in America presumes to speak for God, this plea for celestial aid comes tardily. For I recall the testimony of the little RAF flight surgeon who told how his medical unit had become detached during the first 1940 German sweep through France. And how each succeeding day, as he retreated, he medicated uncounted numbers of French, mostly women and children, who had been deliberatly machine-gunned by low flying Luftwaffe pilots to panic the fleeing streams and hamper the aproach of French reservists.

And the thing that appealed to him most was the silence with which the wounded accepted their sufferings, their eyes burning deeply in their sockets like twin alter candles. They did not cry! But now Germany weeps FOR HER OWN! But not for the millions of ex-slave laborers, unnumbered fathers and dispersed families—creatures drained of vitality and thrown aside like empty husks, as we of the 4th Armored found them in filthy prison colonies reduced to savage beasts. Pity? Charity? Germany had no charity then.

Germany weeps! And let those Americans remote from reality weep with her, if they will? I shall not! For I have seen the poignant distress of ravaged peoples, those prematurely aged ghosts who staggered everywhere under salvage bundles: folk whose eyes were heavy with accusation, heirs only to ruin! On whose brow, would you say, rests the Biblical mark of Cain.

So Germany weeps and cries "Christianity" to Christians it denied—to the Vatican which it repudiated as a recadent, outmoded symbol of soft teaching; to the churches it closed in Norway and looted in Warsaw and to the ministry it imprisoned and killed. And where now are the paganisms it embraced—the hammer of Thor, the sadistic rituals of its youth congresses, the vast heiling hordes who gave great glory shouts when Hitler was snatching whole nations like a common bundle thief.

Germany weeps and cries anguished overtones of mercy to a world it sought to destroy. Let those who have sympathy pause and meditate on what Germany would be doing now if she stood on the pinnicle of victory instead of in the slough of defeat. Who would be weeping then? Surely not she! She weeps but they are tears of fury, not repentence!

Johnson Homers for Sox

By HUCK FINNEGAN

FENWAY PARK, May 28—It was Ferriss this and Ferriss that, with occasional honorable mention for Emmett O'Neill, as the Red Sox attempted to lengthen the White Sox losing streak to seven straight before a thin gathering here today. Ferriss' one-hit 7-0 masterpiece and O'Neill's two-hit 2-1 follow-up were still the talk of the benches and the stands as the rival Sox teed off in game No. 3 of this series, which will be concluded with a single tomorrow.

Rex Cecil, who has won two games and last pitched May 20 in Chicago (he was beaten), was sent out to emulate Ferriss and O'Neill. Orval Grove was the Chisox thrower.

FIRST INNING

WHITE SOX—Moses walked. Farrell singled sending Moses to third. Hockett hit into a double play, Steiner to Lake to McBride, Moses scoring. Curtright flied to Culberson. ONE RUN.

RED SOX—Culberson flied to Moses. Schalk threw out Stainer. McBride went out, Farrell to Grove. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

WHITE SOX—Cuccinello doubled. Schalk poped to Cecil. Michaels fouled to Garbark. Tresh walked. Lake threw out Grove. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—Johnson flied to Curtwright. Michaels threw out Fox. Tobin singled. Lake forced Tobin, Michaels to Schalk. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

WHITE SOX—Moses singled. Steiner threw out Farrell and then McBride threw to Lake, doubling moses. Steiner threw out Hockett. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—Michaels threw out Garbark. Cecil was safe on Michaels' fumble. Culberson forced Cecil, Cuccinello to Schalk. Steiner walked. McBride singled, scoring Culberson. Johnson hit a home run over the left field nets, scoring beinh Steiner and McBride. It was his sixth homer of the season. Miechaels threw out Fox. FOUR RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

WHITE SOX — Curtright walked, Cuccinello singled, sending Curtright to third, Schalk flied to Culberson. Michaels forced Cuccinello, Tobin to Steiner, Curtright scoring. Tresh walked. Steiner threw out Grove. ONE RUN.

RED SOX—Tobin flied to Moses. Lake singled. Grove threw out Garbark. Cecil beat out a hit and when Lake overran third he was out, Schalk to Cuccinello. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING

WHITE SOX—Lake threw out Moses. Farrell singled. Hockett singled. Curtright singled scoring Farrell and Hockett was cut trying for third, Johnson to Lake, who covered third. Cuccinello beat out a hit. Ryba replaced Cecil. Schalk singled scoring Curtright. Michaels singled scoring Cuccinello. Tresh lined to Steiner. THREE RUNS.

Red Sox Won't Exploit Incredible Dave Ferriss

Dave Ferris won't be exploited by the Red Sox. The Merriwellian right-hander, whose one-hit, 7-0, shutout of the White Sox highlighted Sunday's twin victory at Fenway Park, will not pitch until Thursday, Joe Cronin announced today. That means he'll miss next Sunday's double-header with the Tigers as well as the Memorial Day double-header with Cleveland.

Good judgment. If the kid should have a bad day or be hurt in any way, fans would shriek: "Hasn't Yawkey got enough dough without jeopardizing Ferriss' future for the sake of the gate."

Ferris would pitch. He's young and strong, willing and game. He pitched relief ball at Greensboro in '42 as well as taking his regular turn, later won 3 games in a seven-game play-off. Didn't Rudolph, James and Tyler pitch every third day for the Braves during their pennant winning 1914 campaign? And didn't the Deans alternate for the Cards coming down the stretch in '34?

But there'll be no trucking with Ferriss. He's too valuable. For that matter let the Sox play as they did against the White Sox, let them get pitching such as Emmett O'Neill showed in the nightcap (two hits to win 2-1) and the crowds will take care of themselves. Everybody loves a winner.

Holiday and Sunday fans will be disappointed if they don't see Ferriss. In fact as yesterday's second game opened it seemed as if they didn't want to see anybody in the box but the young Mississ-

Joe Louis Could Be K.O.'d If Hit Solidly on Jaw

By JACK CONWAY

TEX RICKARD used to say that any big fellow had a chance to knock out the heavyweight champion of the world. This is why Rickard would insist that Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Jack Sharkey and the other fistic stars who appeared under his direction pass up the so-called soft money that was offered them for barnstorming tours.

Joe Louis, 31 years of age and carrying ring rust as a result of his long Army service, realizes that Rickard had the right thought and this is why he has repeatedly said that when he defends his title Billy Conn will be his opponent. Louis knows that he will draw a million-dollar gate with Conn and that, win or lose, he will pull down $400,000 for his services.

Jack Dempsey

The "Brown Bomber" also points to the fact that Conn, like himself, has been in the Army, and also has also probably gone back in his boxing.

You may now add Lou Nova's name to the list of boxers who has found out that any big fellow who is not handcuffed has a chance of knocking out a leading heavyweight contender. Nova was supposed to have what the noble boxing writers like to call a soft touch in the person of Johnny Denson of Indianapolis. This writer rated Nova a 10 to 3 choice over Denson. On paper, it looked as if Nova could win much as he pleased.

The gong sounded for the opening of the first round and Nova and Denson were on their own. Late in the round, Denson sent a crashing right hand punch to the jaw. It was the perfect blow. Every ounce of energy in Denson's body was behind the smash. It landed flush on the chin, Nova's hands dropped to his sides and he fell to the canvas.

"Denson is down," yelled a fan back of the press row, "He's just a big bum."

"That ain't Denson on the deck. It's Nova, you dope," exclaimed his companion.

It was difficult to believe one's eyes. Nova was saved by the bell. Lou says he could have got up if it had been necessary, but that will always be a question. He even looked groggy when he came out of his corner for the second round.

Nova Proves Courage

THERE ARE two assets that make great fighters, courage and ability. Nova proved he had both. In the second round, he held on as best he could until his head cleared. Then he started to fight back.

Lou ripped short, sharp punches to the head and body when the opportunity presented. He kept forcing the issue most of the time and made Denson miss with intended haymakers.

★ ★ ★

Comes On to Win

NOVA DID not give Denson a second's rest until he leveled him for the full count. Even a badly-cut eye did not stop Nova's surge.

Lou had experienced a real scare, and he was nappy when he left the ring with a kayo to his credit. Nova was pleased even though his share of the purse was less than $500. The show had been a financial bust with the net gate dropping under $2000.

"After my show, I'm on my way to the race track to try to pick a few daily doubles," declared Sgt. Eddie Mack. "Boxing cannot compete with horse and dog racing unless one has an outstanding attraction. I have always a chance of getting lucky at the race track and winning a few wagers."

I liked the old Sarge's frankness. Even if boxing had a high commissioner like Happy Chandler, Mack would still go to the races. He might make a few remarks to a high commissioner who objected to his way of life, but he would nevertheless end up with a bundle of mutuel tickets in his hands.

One day at Narragansett, the Sarge was watching a race through glasses. He had his pockets filled with mutuel tickets.

"That's me," said the Sarge as the favorite went out front.

As the race progressed, the lead kept shifting. First one horse, then another of a field of 12 took the lead.

"That's me," exclaimed the Sarge every time the lead shifted.

"I got it," he shouted when a 8 to 1 shot won.

Just so as to make it a sure thing the Sarge had purchased a ticket on every horse in the race.

Mort Cooper Great In Bow for Braves

By BILL GRIMES

CINCINNATI, O., May 28—"He's a master moundsman" was Bob Coleman's answer to "How did Cooper look to you?" "During the first three innings, Mort had as much stuff as he ever showed me," continued Coleman. "What did you think of those 'squibs' Clay and Walker hit down the first base line? They were dillies, and was Gerald burned up!"

Until he took the mound yesterday and hurled his first shutout and his third win over the season Cooper had not pitched for a fortnight. Two weeks ago yesterday he pitched against the Giants in the Polo Grounds and had to be relieved by Bud Byerly.

Mort Cooper

Three days later, he left the Cardinals and returned to St. Louis for a showdown with owner Sam Breadon. One week after he took the run-out powder, Mort became the property of the Braves. He reported to Manager Coleman last Friday over in Pittsburgh and took a light workout that afternoon consisting for the most part of shagging fungoes. Yesterday, he pitched shutout ball against the Reds, a four hitter, during which he fanned eight.

In all probability, Cooper threw more fast balls yesterday than he has in some time. But, they were not thrown in the strike territory. They were either in on the fist of the Reds or outside. His most effective pitches were changed up curves, fork and screw balls, particularly the last named.

The Braves and Reds will wind up this series under the lights tonight, with Nate Andrews and Frank Dasso on the hill top.

After the game, Cooper said that his arm was sore, but that if Coleman would give him a four day rest, he would be ready to go in against the Cubs next Friday in Chicago.

"I believe I'll round into shape, after another start, Bob," said Cooper, "and then I would like to go every third day. But, if you want me to finish up for you in the 8th or 9th innings don't hesitate to send me down to the bull pen."

School Nines In Final Stretch

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy baseball will be roaring into the home stretch of its schedule this week with the Eastern State championships slated to start just one week from today with the invitation tournament of the Schoolboy Writers' Ass'n as the nightcap to the wettest program in history.

Frequent postponements for the major part of the campaigning have just made the task of picking the representative teams so much harder.

That's one of the reasons why this week of competition will be so much more important. For example, Wednesday afternoon, the title in the Greater Boston League could very well be settled at Braves Field when Somerville and Medford will be taking advantage of the Braves' generous offer of use of the park. Then, Saturday, English High will replay Trade School at Fens Stadium in a game that may carry the weight of the first Boston representative in the diamond carnival.

Three big schools head the list of undefeated outfits that have first call on the tournament play. Medford, of the GBI loop, has chalked up 13 straight; Lawrence, of the Essex County circuit, can boast of nine in a row and independent Milton, possibly the best balanced team of the group, now has won all seven starts.

Milton roared through the early portion of its schedule on the experienced pitching of right-hander Everett Goodwin but now with Charlie Coutts rounding to form, the twirling staff will be in even better condition for the three tilts this week with Quincy, Weymouth and North Quincy. Then, of course, Coach Bob Osborne always has Don Morgan, southpaw, and Herb Lawrence to fall back on.

Coach Mark Devlin at Lawrence High has been riding high on the top rung of the Essex League ladder. His success has been in some fancy battery work by catcher Wally Eads, whose batting mark is hovering near .500, and pitcher Wally Baines, whose sticking just falls short of Eads' and whose pitching has been consistently good.

Medford's defending titlists in the GBI will probably have Joe DiBiase ready for the Somerville clash, looking for a repeat of their earlier triumph over Somerville.

sippian whose Sunday victory was his sixth straight victory and his fourth shutout in six starts.

O'Neill was shaky at the start. He walked Schalk, Reynolds and Tresh in the third, and Schalk scored on Haynes' fly to Culby. One run without benefit of a hit. The fans got on O'Neill. But he had them cheering when he was retiring the side in order in the fourth and fifth, and before Curtright singled to open the sixth the boys were wondering if anybody had ever pitched a no-hitter and lost it. O'Neill was practically unhittable. He improved as the game advanced. Schalk's single in the ninth was the only other hit off him, and he didn't issue a pass after the third.

"He was wonderful," said catcher Fred Walters. "I never saw him faster, and his control was perfect once he settled down. Schalk hit the first pitch for his single in the ninth. I figured he'd take it, and O'Neill didn't have much on it. All he has to do to win is get the ball over the plate. His fast ball is lightning."

Ferriss? He's incredible. Keeps improving with every start. One hit, and only 28 batters faced him. One walk. Hockett was the only enemy to reach second base, and he got there on an error. His "downer" was behaving beautifully again. After "Cooch" singled with one out in the second, he forced Shalk to hit into a double play. After he walked Tresh in the third, he forced Lopat to do likewise. Not a man reached first after the fourth frame.

When did any other Sox pitcher start and finish six games running, let alone win them all, four of them by shutouts? The Sox have won 13 games, and Ferriss has won six of them. And he didn't pitch his first game until April 29.

Yet after the game he was the same modest boy he's been from the start. "I was supposed to get Christopher's locker," he smiled as he took his trousers off a peg in the corner of the clubhouse, but Johnny Orlando won't give it to me because he says it might change my luck. But it's all right with me. I'm satisfied to keep winning."

That's right. He still hasn't got a locker.

This was O'Neill's fourth start, his first since he faced the Yanks on Sunday, May 6 in the nightcap of a rainy double-header at Fenway . . . Cecil got his chance to get back in the win column today. His opponent was Orval Grove . . . Haynes has lost two five-hitters in a row to the Red Sox . . . McBride took over at first base against southpaw Lopat, made three hits in four trips and thus kept Metkovich on the bench in the second game with right-hander Haynes working and he won the second game with an eight-inning drive off the fence . . . Pete Fox didn't have a chance all day long. "Might as well have stayed home," he said. But his single scored Steiner in the three-run first inning, and that was all Ferriss needed . . . Steiner's speed afoot helped O'Neill win the nightcap. He raced to third on McBride's drive to the fence, scored when shortstop Reynolds muffed Curtright's relay . . . Ferriss' earned run average is .050 . . . Eddie Lake was at short in place of Newsome and played bang-up ball . . . Tobin came out of his batting slump with a two-run single against southpaw Lopat. He's feeling better than Tabor ever did . . . Six defeats in a row for the White Sox! . . . The twin victories lifted the Red Sox to sixth place . . .

WHEN YOUR UPSET STOMACH FEELS AS IF IT IS ON FIRE!

Try FOR AMAZING RELIEF Smith FENUGREEK TEA

FENUGREEK TEA IS A NATURAL HERB!

FENUGREEK is a natural herb that has given results to many when other methods seemingly failed. It has often been said that FENUGREEK TEA is "A Cup of Good Health from the Good Earth."

A cup of this very pleasant tea is taken before meals (and upon retiring). This mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus helping to absorb by solvency, the poisons that may sometimes foster stomach troubles. It thus often acts quickly to help relieve gas pains, acid-indigestion, sourness and belching.

Headaches, backaches, and that tired-out feeling are often caused by toxic poisons and pockets of impurities in the intestinal tract. FENUGREEK TEA helps flush out these impurities which may have been inside you a long time. By helping to dissolve excess mucus, it can help make your digestive organs feel sweet and clean. Try it today.

Being a liquid mucus-solvent, FENUGREEK TEA naturally tends to flush out thick stagnant bile and also to assist flushing of kidneys. If you are constipated: Try it half hour before breakfast. While not a laxative, this may help induce intestinal flushing.

If your physician has placed you on an ulcer or colitis diet, you'll enjoy the soothing effects of FENUGREEK TEA.

Tear out this advertisement as a reminder to get Leland Kordel's FENUGREEK TEA. Only 50c a box — or $1.50 for the Economy Size, containing four times as much. (Add 10c for mail orders). Sold only by:

CORONER CARRIES BODY OF VICTIM FROM RIVER BANK

Tragedy

Tossing five of her children, four of them to death, from this 30-foot span across Milk river, Montana, Mrs. Andrew Campbell, 24, believed deranged after an operation, followed them into the swirling waters below. Her oldest son, Johnny, 7, was revived when he struck the water and struggled to shore where he informed police of the tragedy. They recovered the body (left, above) of his younger brother.
